FIRST READING

Exodus 34:4-6, 8-9

With the two tablets of stone in his hands, Moses went up the mountain of Sinai in the early morning as the Lord had commanded him. And the Lord descended in the form of a cloud, and Moses stood with him there.

He called on the name of the Lord. The Lord passed before him and proclaimed, 'Lord, Lord, a God of tenderness and compassion, slow to anger rich in kindness and faithfulness.' And Moses bowed down to the ground at once and worshipped. 'If I have indeed won your favour, Lord,' he said 'let my Lord come with us, I beg. True, they are a headstrong people, but forgive us our faults and our sins, and adopt us as your heritage.'

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Daniel 3:52-55

Glory and praise for ever!

SECOND READING

2 Corinthians 13:11-13

Brothers, we wish you happiness; try to grow perfect; help one another. Be united; live in peace, and the God of love and peace will be with you.

Greet one another with the holy kiss.
All the saints send you greetings.

The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, the love of God and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit be with you all.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Apoc 1:8

Alleluia, alleluia!

Glory to the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit: to God who is, who was, and who is to come.

Alleluia!

GOSPEL

John 3:16-18

Jesus said to Nicodemus:

'God loved the world so much that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him may not be lost but may have eternal life.

For God sent his Son into the world not to condemn the world, but so that through him the world might be saved.

No one who believes in him will be condemned; but whoever refuses to believe is condemned already, because he has refused to believe in the name of God's only Son.'

SAVED THROUGH RELATIONSHIPS

When I first got involved with ministry within the Church, I was a different person. Although I wanted to serve God, I had a lot of character flaws. I was very judgmental, selfish and insensitive.

Thank God for my mentors and friends. Through them Jesus has saved me from those flaws. Over the years my family and friends have challenged me and forgiven me, inspired me to change, and been patient when I couldn't. I'm still far from perfect, but I'm a much better Christian now because of my relationship with them.

And that leads us to the Trinity and this week's Gospel. First, the Trinity. The Church believes that God's very self is a relationship – Creator, Son, and Holy Spirit. And that relationship pours love into the world. Aren't we similar? Just like God, relationships are central to our nature. Our friendships build us up or tear us down. They help us fulfil our dreams or they get in the way.

That brings us to this week's Gospel. The Trinity, this God of relationships, seeks to save the world, not condemn it. Do your relationships do the same thing? Do your friends challenge you to live a holier life?

Do you hang out with people who inspire you to goodness and compassion? Is the world around you and your friends a better place when you all get together?

I remember one young guy from a parish I once served. For quite some time, he hung out with people who skipped school and smoked pot. That became his lifestyle. After I met him, he became involved in our parish youth ministry. He started hanging out more with people who worked to improve themselves and their world through prayer, hard work at school, and service. Those relationships helped change him into a youth leader – which then helped change the world around him.

This week remember that the Trinity's relationship changes the world. Then think about your relationship with friends. Do some comparing. Hopefully, you'll see that you're a lot more like the Trinity than you think.

TRINITY SUNDAY REFLECTION

How do we come to know God? Can God be known? These questions have been part of the human journey from the beginning.

Today I will look at some of the concepts that underpin the readings of the day as part of our struggle to come to know God. We recognise at the same time that whatever we gain in knowledge of God is far from the reality of who God is.

Trinity is a name for God. This name challenges us to pause before the mystery of God. It also helps us recognise that we cannot fully appreciate the nature of God. There are no images of God that are adequate, so the people of Israel sought to use a number of word/images that, over time, would help them with their exploration. Such a cluster of names appears at the beginning of Exodus reading. "You O Lord, are a God, merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and abounding in steadfast love and faithfulness." These descriptions sum up for Israel's the most important things they could say about God.

When these words are put together they provide a picture of a God of Commitment. The people felt it was not enough to say that God is great, or that God can't be compared to anything else; what made God great was God's utter reliability.

To say that God is powerful is not enough. We have all experienced the misuse of power in small and in frightening ways. Power is neutral in itself. It is how power is used that gives it its character. When power is used with solidarity and reliability, it is a gift. The people of Israel knew what it was to be powerless, so they recognised that power by itself is not a measure of Godness. They proclaimed that power in the service of the poor and needy, power used with compassion was a mark of real Godness.

When we, as Christians, say that God is Trinity, we are giving testimony to our understanding of the nature of God. We name God as Creator, who in mercy and graciousness forms us in the divine image.

We use the words father or mother of God because it is from good parents, or from the dream of perfect parents, that we begin to sense the transcendent. From the nurturing steadfast love of Jesus, Jesus learned to call God, Abba.

God is a God of solidarity. This is revealed in the gift of the Incarnation, God-with-us, a God who saves, delivers, who calls us to save and deliver in his name. To be Son-of-God is to value humanity beyond glory, as Paul tells us. Though he was equal to God he did not exploit this gift but became the Obedient One.

God is steadfast love and faithfulness. "I will be with you always...You will not be orphans..." God is faithful. When we see fidelity in our world we are moved to celebrate. Fidelity is the constant pursuit of the vision of God. By calling God Tri-unity we remember that our striving for the kingdom to be realised on earth is a com-unity project.

The God of holiness teaches us that we journey with others, and on the way we learn mercy, graciousness, non-violence and steadfast love.

DID YOU KNOW?

- From earliest times the Church has pondered the relationship between the Father, Son and Holy Spirit. The Doctrine of the Trinity, most eloquently defined at the Council of Chalcedon (451 AD) as three persons in one God, is the result of this.
- St Patrick is reputed to have attempted to explain the mystery of the Trinity as God who is three-in-one by using the shamrock as a symbol. Another commonly used symbol of the Trinity is the triangle.
- The Trinity is sometimes described as the Lover (Father), the Beloved (Son) and the Love between (Spirit).
